
Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez @AOC · 21h

This is why Congress needs time to actually read this package before voting on it.

Members of Congress have not read this bill. It's over 5000 pages, arrived at 2pm today, and we are told to expect a vote on it in 2 hours.

This isn't governance. It's hostage-taking.

We need to send a clean bill with just $2,000 survival checks and a separate spending/covid relief bill.

Negotiating everything into one bill is how we got here, since Trump wants to sign a bill with survival checks, let's send one to his desk right away.

this is a point that often is brought up as a sort of "gotcha" - there is absolutely no way AOC actually thinks this is true. it is mandated that any legislation is received 7 days prior to voting, and the default behavior is that the entire fucking thing is read out loud prior to the vote to all attendees but this is waived by the attendees 99.99% of the time.

https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/BILLS-113s1665is/xml/BILLS-113s1665is.xml

the TL;DR is that not only do they provide access to the entire thing a week ahead of time, they also receive a marked up copy with key points highlighted by their respective teams. if AOC's team isnt supplying her this, its her own fault.

I don't know. Supposedly it is not allowed for them to take out women in public, so they have to take boys to various events (and then they fuck the boys, because, you know... dick gets hard and blue balls).

You could watch the docu on youtube if you care. Weirdly enough, it's still on youtube.

And it was just coincidence the orange man picked a new postmaster general and it was in time to prepare for mail-in ballot rigging and (if memory serves) there was pending legislation for funding?
Just a coincidence packages are delayed again, this time to the extent that Amazon is talking about bankrupting any seller

Yeah like SOPA/PIPA got thrown into the bin a decade ago right? Turns out that they came back twice as cancerous just an administration later. This is the issue of a democracy, you don't vote against something and therefor conclude this issue from ever being brought back up, you only vote FOR something. It's only a matter of when that something will eventually get voted for. This is the process that has degraded the white nations into a pathetic shell of mediocrity that only vaguely represents what they once were. This is also why everything is eventually infested by immigrants, because you don't vote against immigration, you vote for something that is not-immigration until the pro-immigration policy eventually passes given enough time. Voting is the main issue here and the root of all of this.

no, they had to vote on it in 2h (they already voted btw, and she voted YES)

This is talking about the House reps. Then Senators had to vote on it too later in the process. They also voted YES it seems. And finally Trump said he's going to VETO it.

Now imaging bitching about that job on social media as though you're hard done by for being asked to read some long ass documents a few times a year.
Let's have a vote, if I offered any of you clowns her job with her compensation package, could you figure out how to either read this yourself, or delegate some interns or staff members to read it for you and give you a QRD within 48 hours?

There's some inherent value to the concept of democracy, it just needs restraints. Similar to how capitalism works and then becomes a cancer once corporatism and consumerist debt-lending bullshit come into the picture, democracy works when the people who conduct it aren't foreign agents devising the destruction of the nation.
Representative democracy works in theory only when national issues stay national and don't become local, but much of the system has been slowly molded into being so that some fuckhead across the nation now shapes my side of nation's policy because they want it that way for them.
There's nothing wrong with giving your people the final say in what affects them, it's the only real way a system can exist while still accounting for the individual liberties of man, but there's not enough security or active purging of corrupt elements within it. The public is suppose to do this duty, they don't, so you get a shit democracy with shit people who make a shittier democracy with shittier people.

It's the public's fault the same way it's an old lady's fault for being conned. The conman should be dealt with, but that old lady needs to be less of an ignorant helpless bitch especially when society provides so much for them to be better.

Again, knowing what bills are coming up for vote and reading them is your fucking job that you're being paid 180K a year for fucking life to do. If these hacks can't get the shit done they need to be removed along with their pay and benefits and replaced by people who can do the job.
Whichever committee wrote that bill knows what's in it and has known for probably several weeks.
Knowing which legislation is being pushed for vote is the job of legislatures and if they are literally blindsided by an omnibus financing bill they absolutely failed.
How about instead of selling 60$ "fuck capitalism" t-shirts you start networking among your fellow representatives so that you know what bills they're working on?

So AOC really is a moron. At face value she sounds like shes making sense, give them time to read it. The problem is, I doubt she would be able to really understand it if you gave her a day per page to read. In addition, even if you give Congress enough time to read, how many of them would ACTUALLY read it, understand it, and make a proper decision? Maybe we shouldn't be criticizing not having enough time to read a 5000 page bill, but criticizing the fact it's a 5000 page bill. That is the true crime. So much pork is in it. Every single item should have to be voted seperate. Stimulus for americans 1 vote, stimulus to business another vote, etc. That way they would be held accountable for each and every item and cant claim it was snuck in or they had to vote otherwise americans die.

well, they don't actually print currency (the number of banknotes in circulation remains the same).

They mostly add more 0 to bank accounts. And most of those 0 go to big companies, which use those 0 to purchase other companies (for example Microsoft purchased Github).

I would personally argue that this shifts the inflatory effects to the stock markets and that most US companies are overvalued. But who knows, I am just a simple goy.

He proposed $1200 flat, no ifs, no buts, no fuss.
Pelosi wouldn't have that without a favour in exchange.
Now we're months later and it's $600 per citizen, with illegals getting it too, with loads of countries abroad getting money (probably as a "pls don't mention us trafficking your children" bribe), and corporations getting even more bennies.
And they get 2 hours to read it before voting.

The Demorats will vote in favour, I'm sure some RINOs will too, but Trump won't sign it. I don't know if it's necessary, but an EO could overrule it I suppose.

Women bald at equivalent rates to men, just 30 or so years later. Why do you think old ladies who don't wear wigs get perms? Helps hide the thinning.

Simply put, they are above the law and get a pay check no matter what. There is a book called, "Three felonies in a day" or something like that which does well to highlight the reality. They would sign a bill into law which makes breathing a felony, and you/they would never know it until one day you get pulled over for a break light out and slapped with a felony by a guy who just didn't like the way you look. Half the laws on the book are just them preemtively creating ways to destroy anyone for any reason- legally. Since they can't be destroyed, what do they care at all

As dumb as she is with economics and sjw shit I do agree with this shit. For a stimulus package we shouldn't have shit that's not related to just the stimulus. Why are we giving money to other countries? Why did we give the MIC more money? But this bitch is to blame as well though. Trump was trying to get them to agree to a bill that had less pork in it but the cunt Nancy wanted to stuff it with voting shit and gibs for illegals. AOC didn't say shit then when a package was being jammed with shit that benefited her. And to people that voted for Biden, hey you voted for the establishment again, don't be surprised when congress goes back to supporting the establishment. Maybe in time they will realize Trump was anti establishment and was working to withdraw american troops from shitholes and remove lifelong DC slugs and they couldn't get over him saying mean words.

why is this bill filled with so much nonsense, and why do democrats act as if the president said he would sign the bill if they raised it to 2000$, when he literally said they need to get rid of all that and give him a stand-alone bill there are litreally cuckthollic priests there telling them that "wearing condoms is a sin" and "they would go to hell if they did"

At this point, those fucking priests do more damage to civilisation than good. Those fedora tippers might have a point.

No matter how much you hate someone's politics, you agree with them on some things just like no matter how much you love someone's politics you disagree on others. Before 2010 the majority of people could disagree with someone's politics and not hate the person, but the (((media))) realized that if people don't hate each other then they'll focus on who's actually hurting them. AKA (((Wall Street))). It's not surprise that IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE WALL STREET PROTESTS the msm switched to race/politics baiting 24/7 to change what people view as their enemy.

All they do is write bills. All day and every day. Never used to get such overt bullshit passed because of conscientious lawmakers. But with all the recent “emergency budget bills” that have to get passed to avoid government shutdown, it’s real easy to pork barrel these bullshit laws and amendments in with necessary lawmaking. Ironically this same pork barrel spending is why Israeli citizens get 5000$ from us, why horse races get a large billion dollar stimulus check, etc. Its all retarded.

no, Jimmy Dore and other leftists seem to be calling her out for not pressuring Nancy Pelosi to push medicare.

So, this was probably one of those tweets to appease them and to showcase how much work she has to do (read 5000 pages in 2h).

She did vote for the bill though.
